BLAME WATSON FOR MASSACRE

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Although no official reply from the Carranza government to the American demand for an explanation of its purposes had been received tonight, private advices from Mexico City indicated that a defiant answer was being prepared there.

May Come Thru Arrivedondo
Special Agent Rodgers at Mexico City was informed two days ago that he might expect to be handed the Mexican note that day but he has made no mention of it in later despatches. Some officials believe it possible the communication would come thru Mr. Arrivedondo and that its actual delivery would be conditioned on the situation at the time he received it. Efforts at arranging mediation, favored by Carranza officials, led to the belief that the reply would be withheld at the last moment if there seemed any chance that the Washington government would listen to such proposals.

The unconciliatory character of a memorandum published in Mexico City, specifically denying all the allegations of the previous American note in answer to Carranza's demand for withdrawal of the troops appear to bear out these advices. Intimations have reached officials here however, that the Carranza government may give strong assurances in its note that border raids will be prevented by a strong patrol of Mexican troops, if the United States will withdraw its forces. It was said at the Mexican embassy tonight that 50,000 Carranza troops now are available for border patrol duty.

Protests Against Shooting
Another communication was sent to the state department today by Mr. Arrivedondo, protesting against the shooting of a Mexican customs inspector by American soldiers stationed at Ysleta, Texas, as reported by Mexican Consul Garcia at El Paso. According to Mr. Garcia, the soldiers fired across the Rio Grande at two customs officers, "without any provocation whatever."

The body of the dead Mexican was removed by his companion after dark it was said.

The cabinet had no official advice in any way changing the situation when it assembled today at a regular meeting. The crisis was discussed and later it was stated that no change in policy was contemplated.

President Wilson left after the meeting to speak in New York.

Wilson Will Act Promptly
The president will be in Washington again early tomorrow however, and should an unfavorable reply from General Carranza come in during the night will be able to take the situation to congress before daylight if he so desires. There is every reason to believe that Mr. Wilson will act promptly if the Carranza government formally accepts the communication placed upon its orders to General Trevino in Secretary Lansing's note and which it has been asked either to affirm or withdraw. Mr. Lansing characterized the order an act of deliberate hostility. How long the administration is prepared to wait for a formal diplomatic statement of the de facto government's intention toward American troops in Mexico has not been revealed. It is probable, however, that President Wilson will not act before Wednesday at the earliest unless some development forces him to go before congress tomorrow.

The house will adjourn tomorrow over the Fourth of July.

At the war department during the day measures to furnish a military force along the border adequate for any emergency continued to go forward with unabated speed. A censorship of all official news as to movements of individual units of the guard was applied for the first time, orders of similar nature already having gone out to departmental commanders.

Major Douglas MacArthur, engineer corps attached to the general staff, assumed his duties as military aide to the secretary and duty in charge of all war department information dealing with the Mexican crisis.

FIRST ILL., INFANTRY REACHES SAN ANTONIO

TROOPS MARCH AT ONCE TO CAMP
ASSIGNED TO THEM

Second Illinois Regiment is Due Today and Seventh is Expected Sunday Night—Hope Entire Two Illinois Brigades Will Reach Fort Within Five or Six Days.

San Antonio, June 30.—The first Illinois infantry, Colonel Sanborne commanding, arrived at Fort San Houston tonight and went into camp. The first battalion headquarters company and supply company reached San Antonio late this afternoon, the second battalion at 8 o'clock and the third battalion two hours later.

The seventh New York regiment reached San Antonio late tonight and transferred without detraining to the San Antonio & Arkansas Pass railroad which will carry them to their station near Brownsville and points in that troubled section.

The first Illinois marched at once to the camp assigned to them known as Camp A, at the head of the line provided for the Illinois and Wisconsin brigades. Within twenty-four hours from now the second Illinois regiment is due and the seventh Illinois is expected Sunday night. It is hoped that the entire two Illinois brigades will reach Fort San Houston within five or six days. The second regiment will be located at Camp B, and the seventh at Camp C. Those camps are fully equipped.

The camp site designed for first Illinois cavalry adjoins the site selected for the Wisconsin brigade.

The work of locating the guardsmen is thoroughly systematized. When the troop train arrives the commanding officer receives from a representative of the quartermaster's department an envelope containing blueprints of the camps, surrounding country, roads, and other information indispensable.

All that is necessary for the commander to do is to consult the map, march his men to their allotted camp and report his arrival to the adjutant general.

The work of medical examinations and of swearing the guardsmen into the federal service will go forward at once.

No news of clashes between United States troops and Mexicans was reported to General Funston tonight from any point.

The Illinois regiment was the second command of those called out by the president June 18 to reach its station, a battalion of Utah artillery having reached Nogales earlier today.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS BEFORE PRESS CLUB

Opposes War With Mexico Unless It is Absolutely Necessary

RECEIVES MANY LETTERS

Executive States Hundreds Have Written Him to Avert Hostilities

IS REPEATEDLY APPLAUDED

NEW YORK, June 30.—President Wilson in his speech before the New York Press Club here tonight indicated plainly that he is opposed to war with Mexico unless it is absolutely necessary. At the beginning of his address he launched directly into a discussion of the Mexican situation telling of the hundreds of letters he is receiving every day imploring him to avert hostilities except as a last resource.

"I am for the time being the servant of such people," he declared.

Receives Many Letters
President Wilson said he had received many letters from property owners in Mexico but that there had been many others from persons whose names never would be known, saying to him; "For God's sake don't start war with Mexico unless it is absolutely necessary. Do you think the glory of the United States would be enhanced by a war of conquest in Mexico?"

He asked his fellow guests and paused as if waiting response. The question he propounded solemnly was greeted with a loud chorus of "noes."

The president made it plain in his speech that he will not countenance a war with Mexico until there is no other alternative for settling the border troubles.

Again he declared that he was ready to sacrifice his own political fortunes in order to carry out his convictions as to what would be the just course to pursue in the situation.

Repeatedly Applauded
The president's audience composed of newspapermen, state and municipal political leaders and others prominent in public life signified their endorsement of his opinion by repeated outbursts of applause. Shouts of "no" also greeted his query whether it is America's duty to "carry self defense to the point of dictation into the affairs of another people."

The president, dwelling on his efforts to serve the whole people, thousands of whom, he said are appealing to him to maintain peace as long as possible.

"I have constantly to remind myself," he said, "that I am not the servant of those who wish to enhance the value of their Mexican investments, but that I am the servant of the rank and file of the people of the United States."

Pays Tribute to Wilson
Bainbridge Colby by placed Theodore Roosevelt in nomination for the presidency at the Progressive convention at Chicago, paid President Wilson a high tribute in an address but did not declare unqualifiedly that he would support him in the coming campaign as it was reported he would do.

"I am a Progressive," he said, "I was one of the party's organizers. I shall stick by the ship until it is recognized by passengers, crew and officers alike that it must be abandoned. I cannot leave until the water is up to my chin. I will say this however, speaking for the rank and file that the friends of Woodrow Wilson in the party are legion. The stocking horse of the national committee may vote down the resolution to leave the votes of Progressives to their own consciences but I think the actions of Progressives are to be determined and dictated by their individual judgment and feeling else."

President Wilson arose from his seat and shook hands with Mr. Colby as he finished speaking. Later the president paid tribute to Mr. Colby's generosity.

Mayor John P. Mitchell, Ralph Pulitzer and Irvin S. Cobb also spoke.

President Wilson did not begin to speak until almost 11 o'clock.

Party Includes Mrs. Wilson
The party which included Mrs. Wilson who occupied a seat of honor in a balcony behind huge American flags, Dr. Carey T. Grayson and Secretary Tumulty left for Washington at 12:30 o'clock.

President Wilson said in part: "I realize I have done a very important thing. I have come to address this thoughtful company of

ASSOCIATED PRESS MEMBER PURCHASES THE NEW YORK SUN

Sale Follows Twenty-Three Years of Unsuccessful Effort to Establish a Proprietary News Gathering and Distributing Organization.

New York, June 30.—After twenty three years of unsuccessful effort to establish a proprietary news gathering and distributing organization in opposition to the co-operative form of the Associated Press, the New York Sun was sold today to Frank A. Munsey, a member of the Associated Press and beginning Monday next, will no longer try to gather its own news and will receive the service of the dominant organization. In announcing the purchase, Mr. Munsey will say in tomorrow's issue of the Sun:

"The tremendous advantage to The Sun can be appreciated only by newspapermen. Thru it the Sun secures a morning membership in the Associated Press and there is no other possible way to secure such a membership except thru the purchase of a newspaper owning one."

"Thru a mixup that occurred some years ago, when the Associated Press was re-organized the Sun did not associate itself with all the other morning papers of the town in the re-organization. As a consequence ever since then it has been compelled to gather its news alone and at a vast annual expenditure in excess of the cost of receiving it thru the Associated Press."

"Moreover, it is not possible for a single newspaper to compete in news gathering with the Associated Press which is the peerless news gathering organization of all the world. With the Associated Press membership which the Sun secures thru this merger, it will be equipped for better work so far as concerns its news service than at any time in its history—better than in the old days when it was a member of a press association, because the Associated Press of today is incomparably better and bigger than any previous news gathering organizations."

The price of the Sun will be reduced to one cent.

BULLETIN.

Springfield, Ill., July 1.—Fifteen hundred enlisted men and officers of the First Cavalry, Illinois National Guard, most of them sound asleep, lay on sidewalks and lawns, the full length of six city blocks, from about nine o'clock last night until early this morning, while a score of Pullman coaches with berths made up stood idle on the wash tracks.

The train was to depart at 7 o'clock last night to carry the cavalry to Brownsville, Texas, but at one o'clock this morning it still was being "made up" railroad officials said and the soldiers still kept on brick and concrete.

Scattered among them were several hundred women, who had come to say good bye to husbands and sweethearts. These women had spent the day at Camp Lincoln but they sat up all thru the night while waiting for the men to board the train.

This was the second consecutive night that the First Cavalry slept without the slightest pretense of beds. They broke camp late Thursday and spent the night on the grass at Camp Lincoln, each cavalryman wrapped in a single army blanket. This morning many of the women dozed off in the arms of their husbands and many a husband slept with his head on his wife's lap as she sat on a curbstone in full view of passing street cars.

At midnight the streets had become so thickly covered with the bodies of sleeping soldiers that street cars actually brushed their uniforms.

At 1:30 o'clock this morning (Saturday) Wash officials said the first section of the train would get away probably one hour later.

TURN OVER PRISONERS' PROPERTY TO U. S. MILITARY AUTHORITIES

EL PASO, Tex., June 30.—Twenty two horses, twenty one saddles and a quantity of rifles, pistols, ammunition and clothing, captured at Carrizal today was turned over at the International Bridge here to American military authorities. The horses were brought to the Mexican end of the structure by a peon and driven across in a drove to the American side where waiting troopers caught them. The accoutrements were hauled across in a rickety wagon, an American officer signing a receipt for the property.

Military headquarters on the American side were still investigating a complaint made by General Francisco Gonzales, commander of the Juarez garrison, that American troops near Ysleta, Texas, last night, fired across the line killing Juan Moreno, a Mexican customs guard. Nothing was found to substantiate the complaint, it was said.

PLAN BOND ISSUE TO MEET THE EXPENSES OF MEXICAN EMERGENCY

Officials Have Not Determined What Form Bonds Would Take Should an Issue Be Found Necessary.

Washington, June 30.—An agreement under which congress is expected to authorize a federal bond issue to meet the extra-ordinary expenses of the Mexican emergency was reached today by administration leaders. Under the plan such an issue actually would be only in case the ordinary resources of the treasury and the additional $210,000,000 expected from the administration revenue bill prove insufficient.

What form the bonds would take, should an issue be found necessary has not been determined. Some leaders favor issuance of some of the Panama canal bonds of which balance of $240,569,000 remains in the treasury and others believe a special emergency bond should be put out. Treasury officials emphasized however, that in view of a net balance of close to $200,000,000 on hand at the end of the fiscal year, tonight, the authority asked of congress might not have to be invoked.

TWO ILLINOIS SOLDIERS DROWN

Springfield, Mo., June 30.—Robert Daly and Louis Reltz, privates in Company H, Fourteenth regiment, Brooklyn, N. The bodies had not been removed this morning.

ORPET'S STORY IS PLACED ON TRIAL

DEFENSE ATTEMPTS TO SHOW LAMBERT GIRL COMMITTED SUICIDE

Witnesses are Summoned to Prove Helms' Woods was the Last Place Which a Murderer would Deliberately Select as the Scene of His Crime.

Waukegan, Ill., June 30.—Will H. Orpet having told his story of the death of Marion Lambert, a task named to support the defendant's story was placed on trial today. That, at least, was the comment that his chief counsel, James H. Wilkerson, put on the day's evidence and much that will follow.

Today's array of witnesses summoned to support the defendant's assertion that he did not poison Marion and that therefore she must have committed suicide, were used for the most part to prove that Helms' Woods was the last place which a murderer would deliberately select as the scene of his crime. The witnesses on this point were Gale M. Brooks, a civil engineer, James Anderson, Jr., his assistant in mapping Helms' Woods, W. W. Guerley, a photographer who "took" pictures of the place from almost every angle and of almost everything in it and John Stafney, mortician.

Professor Henry J. Cox, weather forecaster at Chicago, testified as to his February records, that being the month in which Marion came to her death and Orpet was arrested.

Mr. Brooks asserted that from the three trees where Marion's body was found he could easily see Anderson walking in the various roads around the woods and Anderson swore that from the roads he could see his chief with perfect distinctness. Guerley's photographs showed a sparse growth of trees and practically no underbrush—in fact in certain directions the photographs showed clear thru the woods. The street car man testified that he could see the three trees distinctly from his car.

MEXICANS SEIZE GOLD AND SILVER BULLION TOTALLING $500,000

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The state department was officially advised that gold and silver bullion belonging to Americans and seized by local Mexican authorities at Mazatlan totaled nearly $500,000. The seizures were reported to have begun before the Carrizal incident. A protest already has been made to General Carranza.

Reports of continued seizures in various parts of Mexico reached the state department during the day. In most cases the property taken had been left behind by Americans fleeing the country. There have been no indications that the local authorities acted on instructions from Mexico City, but no reply has been received to the representations made several days ago to General Carranza.

FATHER AND TWO SONS DROWN

RESUME SHIPMENT OF MUNITIONS.

Columbus, N. M., June 30.—Shipment of food and munitions to the Colonia Dublan base was resumed today after an interruption of 36 hours. ## KILBURN WITHDRAWS RESIGNATION

REPORT BALTIC SEA BATTLE

Successes for the entente allies on the three most important European fronts—in France, in the Italian theater and in eastern Galicia—are chronicled in the latest official communications. The French and British continue their raids against the Germans in France, the French having captured the Thaumont work northeast of Verdun and the British having kept up their bombardments of German trenches and their incursions into German positions by raiding parties. The Russians have taken Kolomea, an important railway junction leading to Lemberg, in Galicia, and the Italians continue to advance against the Austrians in the Trentino region.

The struggle for the possession of the Thaumont work, taken by the German crown prince's forces from the French a week ago was most severe, the position changing hands several times in the incessant fighting.

Violent bombardments have marked the fighting on the remainder of the front around Verdun, particularly on the sector of Hill 304.

The British are keeping up their tactics of destroying by artillery fire German first and second line trenches from Ypres to the Somme.

Unofficially it is reported that the British are expending more than a million shells a day in this work.

In addition to the capture of Kolomea, the Russians also have taken the town of Oboertine, northeast of Kolomea, and several other villages north and south of that point.

On the front in Russia from the Galicians border to the region of Riga there have been battles at various points, but with no decisive results.

The Italians have taken Griso and several mountain positions south-east of Trent. Their advance against the Austrians also has resulted in the capture of nearly a thousand prisoners, as well as stores of arms and munitions.

Vienna claims only the repulse of attacks in this sector.

An unofficial report of a battle between Russian and German squadrons in the Baltic sea south of Stockholm on Thursday has been received in London from Stockholm.

It is such a common thing to read about the enormous salaries that are paid to movie stars that people are beginning to wonder if the salaries are paid in real or stage money. It is one of the favorite methods of the press agent to talk about the enormous earnings of the movie people. One of the latest stories is that Mary Miles Minter, sometimes called the infant prodigy of the movies, is receiving a salary of $52,000 a year, and she is not yet fifteen years of age. Perhaps these $1,000 or $2,000 a week salaries are paid, and while people read the stories with interest they would have to be "shown" before actual belief in the truth of the figures follows the interest.

If you do not think that the women of this country will have anything to say about the next president of the United States, consider the fact that there are nearly 4,000,000 of them who have the right to express their preferences for the presidency. The states in which women can vote and the number of women over 21 years of age in each state according to the census of 1910 are as follows: Illinois, 1,567,491; California, 671,386; Kansas, 438,934; Colorado, 215,425; Washington, 277,727; Oregon, 168,323; Arizona, 43,891; Montana, $1,741; Idaho, 69,818; Utah, $5,729; Wyoming, 28,849; Nevada, 18,140; total, 3,655,445.

EVICTED

New gray hairs are adorning my venerable dome. The sheriff came this morning and shooed me from my home. My good wife, Jane Mirandy, is weeping by the gate, and little Bess and Andy can't get their smiles on straight. Life treated us so gayly, that living seemed like play, but now it's wailow wailow, alas, alackaday! We used up every dollar, as fast as it was earned, and now we sit and holler for all the coin we burned.

We laughed at plodding neighbors, who picked half their seeds, the product of their labors, the dollars of their days. While they were toiling, plugging, with fun from them afar, we went around chug-chugging, in mortgaged motor car. We heard the wags gabble of rainy days and woe, but laughed, and joined the rabble, to see the movie show. We hit the higher places, regardless of expense, and now the sheriff chases us from our residence. Well may you weep, Mirandy, and squint the tears around, and well may Bess and Andy send up a doleful sound. Now that we've come our croppers, we view things with alarm; and we shall join the paupers out at the county farm.

DATES IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.

July 1, 1736—Louis St. Ange, second son of Jean St. Ange, de Belle Rive, at one time commandant at Fort de Chartres, was ordered to take command at Post Vincennes endorsed something which everybody knows is a very essential part of the anti-saloon movement. In twenty-three years of its organization the league has heretofore refused to go on record with reference to suffrage, "but possibly influenced by the stand taken by both the Republican and Democratic parties, anti-saloon leaders decided that endorsement of a movement not on the surface aligned with the anti-saloon league plan might be safe. In Illinois for proof the anti-saloon league movement was given its greatest boost when the woman's suffrage act was passed. A lot of people have never been quite able to understand how that act was put thru the legislature without more determined opposition from the liquor forces. But the best proof that suffrage is the foe of the saloon is found in the fact that liquor organizations everywhere, while declaring that a great many women do not believe in the anti-saloon movement, nevertheless fight in every possible way against the progress of suffrage.

As "The Senator" Sees It

From time to time a political writer in the Chicago Tribune under the nom de plume of "The Senator" gets off a lot of gossip written in such a vein that it takes two or three readings to understand just what is the point. The reader often wonders wherein is the advantage in so much ambiguity and circumlocution. Nevertheless, "The Senator" frequently has some interesting matter and this would apply to the article in the Herald yesterday wherein is explained from the writer's standpoint the sense of high duty, which he says "inspired the Denen boys to welcome Hull as both angel and goat." It is "The Senator's" view that Morton Hull has been induced to become a candidate for the governorship mainly because he is a good spender and is ready to put $50,000 or more into the campaign. It is pointed out that the paramount issue with the Denen people is to reestablish themselves in Cook county politics as having suffered a series of defeats during the last two years. To accomplish this thing "The Senator" says will require an active campaign with a lot of money expenditure and they are figuring that this general loosening up of the sinews of war will have a very beneficial effect on the Cook county election. And while Hull as head of the ticket might easily be forgotten, his activity and his money would have their effect upon the county slate. That is "The Senator's" opinion. Take it for what it is worth.

The Peerless News Gathering Agency

The announcement made yesterday by the new owner of the New York Sun is another tribute to the greatness of the Associated Press. The Sun has for more than twenty years endeavored to secure its news thru an organization of its own, in contrast to the co-operative plan of the Associated Press. After this struggle of more than two decades the effort has been abandoned and now the Sun, with Mr. Frank A. Munsey as the owner, will receive Associated Press news. In his announcement Mr. Munsey explains the situation by the statement "It is not possible for a single newspaper to compete in news gathering with the Associated Press, which is the peerless news gathering organization of all the world. Today the Associated Press is incomparably better and bigger than any previous news gathering organization."

The officers and members of the Associated Press do not as a rule spend much time in lauding the organization. Possibly this is not done as a matter of taste but the fact is that the Associated Press is so great and occupies such a preeminent place in the news gathering field that it is not necessary to bolster up that prestige by self-praise. Occasionally, however, a change in newspaper management gives special propriety to comment on what the Associated Press means, and Mr. Munsey's acquisition of the New York Sun is such an instance.

A Rest Room Proposed.

A central rest room will probably be urged by a number of Morgan county women as a part of a general plan of securing community interest and betterments. The subject has been presented to the county commissioners altho no action has been taken up to this time. It is pointed out that women from the country districts who come to Jacksonville to shop and who are to spend several hours here, have absolutely no rest room facilities at their disposal. It is not in most instances possible to go to a hotel and as a result women who are waiting to meet friends or relatives must sit on the park benches or stand in the stores. It is said to be a frequent occurrence that women from the country come in in the morning with their husbands and children, members of the family do not shop at the same stores at the same time, and when it is time for going home there is no common meeting ground.

A number of cities have established rest rooms especially designed for women and children and they have proven good commercial assets of the communities. In large cities like Chicago and St. Louis the rest rooms are permanent adjuncts of business houses. In Chicago, for example, the rest room at the Marshall Field store is very spacious, and furnished extensively, provides every convenience for the comfort of the patrons of the store. The Field rest room is the meeting place of thousands upon thousands of people who go there rather than to a hotel for various reasons. There is no expense to the patrons of the store, yet from the store management standpoint undoubtedly this extension of courtesy pays, for of the thousands who through the rest rooms there are comparatively few who do not become buyers in one or more of the many big departments in the store.

The women interested in the movement do not think it likely that any store in a city of this size could afford to provide all rest room conveniences. They think that the project should be paid for by the county board or provided by the chamber of commerce in co-operation with women's clubs and possibly with contributions from various merchants who might feel that they would be benefited by such a rest room.

The Strike Crisis.

As has been already pointed out, there is danger that with their interest absorbed in the Mexican situation, that the public will fail to realize the important crisis which exists in the railroad world. The questions at issue are between the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen of the railroads of the country on the one hand, and the railroad managers on the other. The wage changes asked by the railroad men would cost the railroads $100,000,000 a year. The proposition made by the railroads has been to refer the wage controversy to the interstate commerce commission and if it is shown that that body has not authority to act in such a case, to ask congress to enact a law giving such authority. This proposal, which has thus far been refused by the railway employees, strikes the outside observer as a fair proposition. Arbitration is the only reasonable course with the big issues which are involved.

If the great increases asked by the railroad men are granted the public must pay the bill, for the railroads can secure these funds only from the increase of freight and passenger tariffs which they charge the public. So the people are not at all out of place in expressing their views of the whole question. Reference to the interstate commerce commission would mean to a body with all necessary data at hand, for considering the question. The commission fixes the charges which railroads may make for the service rendered, and there is logic in the claim of the railroads that the commission is the proper tribunal for an arbitration of the differences. The commission has the information at hand to decide whether or not the railroads can pay the increases asked for and still make a fair income on their property investments. If they cannot, and the commission still believes that the demands of the men are just, then the commission will undoubtedly be willing to grant authority to the railroads to increase their rates. If the companies were to voluntarily grant the increase and then look to the commission for authority to charge higher freight and passenger tariffs, they would be at some disadvantage. Knowing that the increased pay must come from a greater revenue secured by the roads, it is wholly reasonable that the question be referred to the interstate commerce commission. The questions of railroad wages and railroad rates have a very close connection.

GOV. DUNNE SEEKS BETTER FACILITIES

ed equipment borrowed from the Chicago and Alton railroad. It is understood here the cavalry will change to the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad at Hannibal, Mo., and will go on that line to San Antonio thence to Brownsville.

Lacking horses the cavalry traveled the three miles from Camp Lincoln to the Wabash station in street cars, thereby drawing the ridicule of all the infantrymen and officers who turned out to see them off. Tonight Colonel Milton J. Foreman's command was dubbed the "First Street car regiment" by their friendly rivals from Camp Dunne. All the trips made by the First Cavalry from Camp Lincoln to Camp Dunne where the physical examinations took place were made by street car.

Major Charles Walz of the third squadron of the First Cavalry and Senior Major of the regiment was disqualified today for physical disability and Major R. R. McCormick, became senior major.

From an authoritative source it was learned tonight that all the remaining commands at the mobilization camp were planning to repeat the performance of the first and second infantry regiments in taking along to the border the men rejected by the United States army medical officers but were deterred by the telegram from headquarters of the Central department, U. S. A., today, ordering the immediate discharge of all men who failed to pass the physical examination.

Tonight all the mobilized organizations of the Illinois National guard had been mustered into the federal service with the exception of A Battery of the field artillery from Danville, Ill., and the field hospital and these units probably will be mustered tomorrow. Four of the 95 men of the engineers corps failed to take the oath when the corps was mustered in today.

Lieutenant Patterson of the mustering staff was ordered today to inspect the Chicago Heights company of the Sixth Infantry and the band and some companies of the fifth infantry. This was taken as an indication here that these regiments and volunteer regiment to complete the brigade may be ordered to the mobilization camp in the near future.

Lieutenant Louis R. Dougherty of the mustering staff will depart tomorrow night for Detroit where he will muster the artillery battalions of the Michigan National Guard in the federal service.

Colonel Lewis, chief mustering officer today recommended to the war department that A battery from Danville be recognized.

Declines to Call Special Session.
Governor Dunne today declined to call a special session of the state legislature "to pass bills providing for our militia to be properly equipped" as requested by a Chicago business man and issued a statement denying that the Illinois National Guard are being insufficiently provided for in any detail. The Governor also made public a report by Adjutant General Dickson, who is in charge of the mobilization of Illinois troops.

General Dickson's report said in part: "There is no military necessity looking to the proper comfort, sustenance and health of any command of this state that has not been amply provided for by the state authorities."

Both Governor Dunne and General Dickson expressed the opinion that the "Federal Government is big enough and rich enough to properly supply the men from this and sister states with all the proper equipment without calling upon individuals or organizations to supply the same."

Both expressed themselves in accord with the "laudable desire of individuals and organizations to contribute to the individual and collective comfort of soldiers with relation to matters beyond the regulations set down by the war department."

PRESIDENT SPEAKS

BEFORE PRESS CLUB

men without any preparation whatever, but gentlemen, as a matter of fact I have been absorbed by the responsibilities which have been frequently referred to here tonight, and that pre-occupation has made it impossible for me to forecast even what you would like to hear me talk about.

"There is something very oddly contradictory about the effect you men have on me. You are sometimes, particularly in your photographic enterprises, very brutal to me and you sometimes invade my privacy, even to the extent of formulating my judgments before they are formed, and yet I am tempted when I stand face to face with you to take off all guard and merely expose myself to you as the fallible human being that I am."

"Mr. Colby said something that was among the few things I had forecast to say myself. He said that there are some things which it is really useless to debate because they go as a matter of course."

Duty To Prepare Nation.

"Of course it is our duty to prepare this nation to take care of its honor and of its institutions. Why debate any part of that except the detail except the plain itself which is always debatable?"

"Of course it is the duty of the government, which it will never look to defend the territory and people of this country. It goes without saying that it is the duty of the administration to have constantly in mind with utmost sentiment every point of national honor."

"But gentlemen, after you have said and accepted these obvious things your program of action is still to be formed. When will you act and how will you act?"

"The easiest thing is to strike. The final thing is the final issue. No man has to think before he takes aggressive action but before a man really conserves the honor of realizing the ideals of the nation he has to think exactly what he will do and how he will do it."

"To you think the glory of America could be enhanced by a war of conquest in Mexico? Do you think that any act of violence by a powerful nation like this against a weak and destructive neighbor would reflect distinction upon the annals of the United States? Do you think that it is our duty to carry self defense to a point of dictation into the affairs of another people? The ideals of America are written plain upon every stage of American history."

"And I want you to know how fully I realize whose servant I am. I do not own the government of the United States even for the time being. I have no right in the use of it to express my own passions. I have no right to express my own ambitions for the development of America if those ambitions are not coincident with the ambitions of the nation itself."

Servant of Rank and File
"And I have constantly to remind myself that I am not the servant of those who wish to enhance the value of their Mexican investments that I am the servant of the rank and file of the people of the United States."

"I get a great many letters, my fellow citizens, from important and influential men in this country, but I get a great many other letters. I get letters from unknown men from humble women, from people whose names have never been heard and never will be recorded and there is but one prayer in all these letters: 'Mr. President, do not allow anybody to persuade you that the people of this country want war with anybody.' I got off a train yesterday and as I was bidding good bye to the engineer, he said in an undertone, 'Mr. President, keep out of Mexico.' And if one man has said that to me, a thousand have said it to me as I have moved about the country."

"If I had opportunity to engage them further in conversation they say, 'we know you cannot govern the circumstances of the case altogether.'"

Moral Forces are Greatest
"I am for the time being the spokesman of such people, gentlemen. I have not read history without observing that the greatest forces in the world and the only permanent forces are the moral forces. We have the evidence of a very competent witness, namely the first Napoleon who said that as he looked back in the last days of his life upon so much as he knew of human history, he had to record judgment that force had never accomplished anything that was permanent."

"Force will not accomplish anything that is permanent. I venture to say in the great struggle which is going on on the other side of the sea. The permanent thing will be accomplished afterward when the opinion of mankind is brought to bear upon the issues and the only thing that will hold the world is this same silent, insistent, all-powerful opinion of mankind."

"Force sometimes holds things steady until opinion has time to form, but no force that was ever exerted except in response to that opinion was ever a conquering and predominant force."

"I think the sentence in American history that I myself am proudest is the introductory sentences of the Declaration of Independence, where the writers say that a respect for the opinion of mankind demands that they state the reasons for what they are about to do. I venture to say that a decent respect for the opinions of mankind demanded that those who started the present European war will come when a settlement comes."

"So gentlemen, I am willing no matter what my personal fortunes may be, to play for the verdict of mankind. Personally it will be a matter of indifference to me what the verdict on the seventh of November is, provided I feel to any degree of confidence that when a later jury sits I shall get their judgment in my favor. Not my favor as an honest and conscientious spokesman of a great nation."

Power Comes From Bottom
"There are some gentlemen who are under the delusion that the power of a nation comes from the top. It does not. It comes from the bottom."

"Power and virtue of the tree does not come from the blossoms and the fruit down into the roots, but it comes from the roots in the obscure passages of the earth where the power is derived which displays its blossom and the fruit."

"Look for your rulers of the future, can you pick out the families that are to produce them? Can you pick out the localities that are going to produce them? You have heard what has been said about Abraham Lincoln. It is singular how touching every reference to Abraham Lincoln is. It always makes you feel that you wish you had been there to help him in some fashion to fight the battles that he was fighting some times almost alone. And could you have predicted had you seen Abraham Lincoln's birth and boyhood where that great figure of the world was going to spring from? "I have presided over a university but I never deceived myself by supposing that the university processes you were producing the ruling forces of the world. I knew that all a university could do was interpret."

"So gentlemen, I have not come here tonight to do anything but remind you that you do not constitute the United States; that I do not constitute the United States; that it is something bigger and greater and finer than any of us; that it was born in an ideal, and only by pursuing an ideal in the face of every adverse circumstance will it continue to deserve the beloved name which we love and for which we are ready to die, the name America."

German Coffee Cake

Made Without Yeast

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.

There is no warm bread quite as appropriate for Sunday morning breakfast as German Coffee Cake, yet it is seldom made by housewives who do not bake their own bread. If K C double raise Baking Powder is used it will be just as good as if raised with yeast and it will have the further advantage of being fresh and warm. Save this recipe and try it next Sunday.

K C German Coffee Cake

Two and one-fourth cups sifted flour;
3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder;
1 level teaspoonful salt; 2
tablespoonfuls melted butter;
2 tablespoonfuls sugar;
1 egg; milk.

Sift dry ingredients together, beat the egg, add milk and butter to the egg to make one and one-quarter cups; stir all together with inverted spoon to a stiff batter. Turn into biscuit pan and spread even. Brush top lightly with melted butter. Sprinkle sugar and ground cinnamon over the top. Bake in moderate oven.

Dutch Apple Cake or Prune Kuchen can be made with this same batter by covering the top with pared and sliced apples, or cooked prunes with the pits removed, skin sides down. *Dredge with sugar and cinnamon the same as for Coffee Cake.

*"The Cook's Book" contains 90 just such delicious recipes. You can secure a copy free by sending the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans of K C Baking Powder to the Jacques Mig. Co., Chicago, being sure to write your name and address plainly.

"THE WHOLE TRUTH"

Says Mrs. Eads, in Writing Her Praise For Cardui.

Circleville, Ohio.—"All I have said about Cardui, the woman's tonic, is the whole truth," says Mrs. Fannie Eads, of R. F. D. No. 6, this town.

"I suffered with womanly weakness, and pains in my back and limbs for two long years. I was so bad off, I could hardly walk at all.

My husband advised me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I concluded to follow his advice. After taking Cardui according to directions, I now feel like a new woman, and can do all of my work.

Before taking Cardui, I was a walking skeleton; now I weigh 150 pounds. I recommend Cardui to every suffering woman, for I know what it did for me. My dresser is never without a bottle of Cardui on it."

There is no reason why Cardui won't help you, just as it has Mrs. Eads, as well as hundreds of thousands of other women in the past 50 years. So if you suffer from any of the many ailments so common to women, or need a good strengthening tonic for that tired, nervous, worn-out feeling, get a bottle of Cardui today. At all druggists.

"MOVE FURTHER BACK" TOO MUCH
U. S. SLOGAN ON BORDER

This Is The Claim of Writer in El Paso Paper—Decries Lack of Virility Shown by Government.

H. W. Loomis writing in the El Paso, Texas, Times declares leaders in this country have parleyed and delayed in handling Mexican situation until patriotism is lagging. The following is part of the interesting article written from a Texas viewpoint:

Now that the dust of the magnificent parade has cleared away, and the great "preparedness" demonstration is over, I wish to rise and make a few remarks:

Some five and a half years ago disorder began in Mexico. It was the outbreak of a people bereft of the natural right of man to the soil. It was the natural fruit of an administration too long in power, a condition which always develops a handful of cream-skimmers and a host of sour-milk-drinkers.

It was fostered by Rome who longed to restore herself to possession of what Juarez took back for the common people, and who saw with alarm the growth of modern ideas spreading from the American colonies with the attempted establishment of a liberal free school system.

Activities of Capitalists
It may have been fostered by foreign capitalists seeking advantage in the oil lands and in the various virgin fields of resource in that land so richly endowed by Nature.

It loosened so many energetic elements in Mexico, so absolutely irreconcilable one with the other, that the crystallization of enough force into a majority, to make a power capable of holding in check the minority, became impossible, and the situation has, from the very first, been simply a series of moves toward utter anarchy.

However, there arose simultaneously an American question.

This question has been equalled by none since the Civil War, for it came as a test, for the first time, of our maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine, and of our national vitality.

Test of Government.

It was the first real test of whether we have a government strong enough to assume the unavoidable responsibility so inseparably connected with the maintenance of that doctrine, that responsibility which comes to us as a just price for its recognition by the powers of Europe.

It was the first real test of the home standing of the American pioneer who seeks fortune in other lands and who seeks to carry there the white man's civilization and who thus becomes our real trade missionary, a thousand times more efficient than the junketing expeditions which congress periodically sends out nominally in the interests of trade expansion and international friendship.

The first real test of whether our government has built upon "that all men were created equal," or whether it repudiates that equality in its care and regard for citizens of the frontier whose small numbers constitute a negligible vote in national campaigns.

Diluting Our Americanism.
The first real test of whether we have diluted our boasted Americanism with foreign elements, more or less indifferent to the maintenance of American ideals, so as to dim the stars on the field of blue.

The first test of whether our own native sons have retained the high ideals which originally cemented the thirteen in one, and therewith a recognition of the force necessary to maintain that union, of whether they have developed a non-aggressive mood, and have allowed the peace-at-all-price advocates to lull them into a dream of fancied security, a forgetfulness of the truth that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

So there arose, I say, a great American question, great because that world would weigh us in our handling of it, American because it goes to the very soul of our national existence as the American republic.

Only Strong Can Protect.
So few people seem to realize what we owe to government, and how only a strong government can assure safety to the higher fruits of civilization when they become menaced.

Only one interpretation to our hesitancy to do our duty in Mexico is given there, only one thought among those people is possible and that is that we fear them.

Only one thing will ever hold the South American republics with us, and that is the demonstration of such a power, such a national spirit, as will make opposition folly.

Never will we bind them to us by highbrow talk of Pan-Americanism, and not only our patronizing air in which we have always approached them, but the prejudices of race, language and religion will make them continue to hate us and they will turn against us just as surely as our national weakness makes it possible.

Folly of Our Hope

The utter folly of the hope of an American union, composed of those nations, intrinsically weak, with ourselves both unprepared and without national virility, is so apparently impracticable to all but our idealists and peace dreamers that one shudders to think of our future, if based on such vain hopes of security.

Mr. Bryan warbles sweet odes of peace by moral evasion. He seems not to know that he can walk home with his peace lecture proceeds in his pocket, only because there is a policeman on the corner and a sheriff in the courthouse, and he seems just as little to realize that he can continue to enjoy the blessings of liberty only by our having a government of invincible power.

The spirit of the people, which is manifesting itself in the preparedness parades is, we hope, the awakening of disposition, for without that guns are useless and marching cohorts mean nothing.

Columbus was largely a local misfortune.

Naco was a national disgrace.

Naco awakened in our administration no idea of the duty of our government to protect its honor.

Columbus, N. M., Aroused Nation
Columbus, however, aroused our government, but not to any high realization of duty.

It only awakened thoughts of revenge, manifest in the government's own phrase, "punitive expedition."

We did only what the cat does when its tail is trod upon, we turned with our claws.

We must of course be prepared, but preparedness is only an idle bluff if unaccompanied with disposition.

The man with a righteous wrath in his very soul is more to be feared than the mere possessor of a gun. All the guns and all the munitions we have so hypocritically bootlegged, during the past two years to our fellow Christians in Europe, would not suffice to save us from wreck in the near future unless we can somehow get back the spirit of '76, and some of its men.

"Better Get Back" Slogan
We are doomed unless we can get men whose very souls would blush for shame should they utter, "Better get back a little farther from the line."

The destruction of our little outposts of civilization, which our pioneers were maintaining in Mexico and the homes just as honestly built there as were the homes on the Kansas prairies, meant the destruction of the gratifying evidences of imitation on the part of the natives and the raising of their grade and standards of living.

All of those homes have been destroyed, not even appropriated. The Indian has triumphed. Not an incident that involved the question of extending and maintaining the white man's ideals has ever awakened one response on the part of our government.

Never has it arisen to the occasion, when the rest of the world saw the Monroe doctrine in the balance, and ourselves being tested as to our fitness to be conceded the custody and protectorate of civilization on this continent, but it responded finally to a purely animal instinct by sending a "punitive expedition."

Lack of Disposition
Lack of disposition allowed the ruin of Mexico.

It allowed the loss of our national prestige.

It made possible the ignoring of our rights by the European combatants.

It sent our citizens to the sea bottom.

It made impossible Pan-Americanism, which, as I have said, can exist only as we show ourselves, by our spirit of national vigor and disposition, evidently invincible.

It has armed, drilled and equipped our evident foe and has refused arms to those who sought to avoid that which befell the citizens of Columbus, Douglas, Naco, and the whole line.

New Preparedness
From lack of disposition there is now born in us the new question of duce by the honeyed words of our nation as did Pancho Villa upon Columbus.

We arise alarmed. (We realize the sweet slumbers, so insidiously induced by the honeyed words of our peace-at-any-price leaders, are at an end.)

We swarm. We organize. We parade. (We shout at the unfurling of the flag, which has been getting a little too short at the end.)

Even yet they lack disposition. Even yet our leaders seek to parley and to arbitrate points pertaining to our national honor and national existence.

Even yet they lack disposition. Even yet they do not stand upon the platform of the Anglo-Saxon's supremacy, but are aroused only by the spirit of vengeance.

Alexander cried "Oh, for a horse." The man was there.

We have the horse, but—

Sealed bids will be received for the construction of a brick smoke stack at the Morgan County Court House according to specifications now on file in the office of the County Clerk. Sealed proposals must be marked "Proposals for new stack," accompanied by a certified check for ten per cent of bid, and delivered to the County Clerk, before 10 a. m., July 8, 1916.

County Clerk.

A FAITHFUL OFFICIAL

While the good roads problem in this part of the country is one beset with much difficulty still the highways could be far better than they are with the expenditure of a small amount of money on the part of road district commissioners aided by residents along the way. One of the best pieces of highway is the part of the state road east of Salem and in the care of Lavva Trotter, district commissioner, and it has been commented on by a great many travelers who have passed over it. Because Mr. Trotter has seen to it, dragging has been done at suitable times and other important work has been done as needed. He has set an example worthy of following on the part of many district commissioners throughout the county.

THE TWO WAYS

The Ford Way, and the other way: The Ford Way is the Easy Way. The other way is the hard way. So, well, er, I won't ask you which way you prefer. Just buy a Ford and come on in, we will celebrate together.

Only a few more days left in which to buy that Ford if you want it for the Fourth of July celebration.

SOX DOWN DETROIT; GO INTO THIRD PLACE

TIMELY HITS OFF DAUSS FACTORS IN VICTORY.

Scott Allows Only Two Hits Until the Ninth, But in the Final a Pass to Cobb and Two Triples Score Two Runs.

Chicago, June 30.—The White Sox went into third place today by defeating Detroit, 5 to 2. Until the ninth Scott allowed the Tigers only three hits but in the final a pass to Cobb and two triples scored two runs. VonKlonitz, the new Chicago third baseman, twisted a leg in the fourth and made room for Ceylon Wright, a Chicago amateur just signed, who made favorable impression. The score:

EXCELLENT FIELD CONDITIONS BRING DECLINE IN WHEAT

Close Is Nervous—Warmer Weather Has Bearish Effect on Corn—Oats Sag With Corn.

Chicago, June 30.—Excellent field conditions brought about something of a decline here today in the value of wheat, notwithstanding an advance in quotations at Liverpool. The close was nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/4¢ lower with July $1.01 1/2 and Sept. $1.04 1/2. Corn showed a setback of 1/2¢ to 1¢ net, oats closed 1/2¢ down to a shade advance, and provisions at a rise of a shade to 5¢.

Bears in wheat were well pleased regarding harvest progress in the winter crop region and were also gratified by the favorable conditions for plant growth in the spring crop belt. Emphasis was placed on unofficial estimates that total domestic yield this season would be 35,000,000 bushels more than was predicted last month. The market had a fair recovery from the low figures of the last half of the session, influenced partly by an official report that the yield was likely to be 17,900,000 bushels short as compared with last year.

Warmer weather had a bearish effect on the corn market.

Pitching a Camp Tent.

The spot where your tent is to stand should be open. Have it as close to the woods as you wish, but so that the sun will shine on your tent. Sunlight is the healthiest thing in the world. It is the best disinfectant. If you pitch your tent under the thick trees there will always be an unhealthy dampness, and mosquitoes will flock in. Then, too, in thunderstorms there is less danger in the open than under trees. The all important reason, however, for pitching your tent in the open is the matter of health.

Do not put up the tent in a hollow. Water will lodge under it with the first shower. Set it on a little knoll. All this holds good, whether you use an A tent, wall tent, lean to or any other sort of shelter. Once the tent is up in place dig a drain around it exactly under the edge of the canvas, so that all the water will run off the tent into this drain and be carried away. — Peter Johnson in St. Nicholas.

Persian Words Naturalized.

Regarding the Persian language, we all have a few words from that source in our vocabularies, although we may not be aware of our indebtedness. There are about a dozen words in the English dictionary which trace to Persia, the most common being perhaps "orange" (although this was thought by some to be derived from the Latin "aurum"—gold). "Sash," meaning a ribbon or band (the "sash" of a window is the Latin "capsa"), "shawl" and "taffeta" are other Persian words which have become thoroughly acclimated, as have "chess," "caravan," "hazard," "dervish" and "luc," while "emerald" and "indigo," "azure," "bazaar," "jackal," "musk," "paradise" and "schimitar" have also been traced to the same source. — London Opinion.

Baring the Feet at Worship.

In India Hindus and Mussulmans alike wear both sandals and shoes (slippers) and the latter boots also, but the invariable rule is to remove them after entering a private house just when stepping on to the mat or carpet on which the visitor takes his seat. They must be cast off, the right boot or shoe first, before the worshiper enters a temple or mosque, and it is still regarded as an absolute profanation to attempt to enter either fully shod. But the domestic habit arose out of its obvious propriety, and the religious ritual of "the shoes of the faithful," now and for centuries past observed throughout Islam, can be demonstrated to have been dictated by, if indeed it be not derived directly from, the universal social etiquette of the east.

As Usual.

Ended were the gay days of the honeymoon, and the newly married couple had come back, crossing the threshold of their new home as man and wife.

Just inside the doorway the man paused, drew his bride closely to him and whispered: "This is our world, darling. In it we will try to accomplish great things."

He was proved a true prophet by subsequent events.

Within three months they were fighting for the world's championship. — London Telegraph.

Clever Man.

With a sigh she laid down the magazine article upon Daniel O'Connell. "The day of great men," she said, "is gone forever."

"But the day of beautiful women is not," he responded.

She smiled and blushed. "I was only joking," she explained hurriedly.

Won't Give Them an Opening.

"I don't ask people how they are any more."

"Why not?"

"I've decided it is better to take it for granted that they are well than to give them a chance to spend half an hour of my time telling me about their ailments." — Detroit Free Press.

Its Vocabulary.

"That parrot of theirs! Why, it rattles off all of the gossip of the neighborhood!"

"Yes. When it was learning to talk they forgot to take it out of the room the day the sewing society met." — Browning's Magazine.

Waters of the Pacific.

To remove the water of the Pacific ocean it would require the filling of a tank a mile wide, a mile deep and a mile long every day for 440 years.

Just Acquainted.

"Do you know her very well?"

"Not very. I've met her only once or twice and so don't know a thing that's wrong with her." — Detroit Free Press.

HERE ARE 4 HAIR PLANTS LIKE THE HAIRS IN YOUR HEAD

No. 1 is a strong healthy hair with proper nourishment.

No. 2 is a dry, brittle, split hair, practically lifeless.

No. 3 shows the hair cell so covered with dandruff that the hair cannot live and is soon smothered.

No. 4 shows the hair plant that is hopelessly dead.

There are about 175,000 hair plants in the human head. Whether they are strong, healthy plants or sickly and lifeless depends upon the care which they receive. If one-half or two-thirds of your hair cells are stopped up with dandruff you cannot expect a good head of hair.

Your hair cells must be kept open—free from dandruff—the scalp must be kept soft and healthy.

Ordinary toilet soaps and shampoos do not open the hair cells. They remove the loose dandruff from the hair and scalp but they contain free alkali and really injure the hair plant.

The hair is an oil plant and should be washed only with an oil shampoo. EVERY WEEK ANTI-SEPTIC SHAMPOO contains both coconut and mineral oils. It cleanses the hair and scalp most thoroughly, dissolves and removes the dandruff and leaves the scalp soft and the hair plants with a slight touch of oil but no surplus oil in the hair.

It contains all of the beneficial properties of crude oil, now so much used for falling hair, but none of the black and disagreeable elements.

Highly recommended for men, women and children.

Every Week Anti-Septic Oil Shampoo is sold at 50c for large bottle.

ITCHING ECZEMA IS A CONSTANT BLOOD CRY

The Blood Reaches Every Part of the Body Every Twelve Seconds.

There are approximately 70,000,000 pores in the skin of a human body. These connect with the blood channels by means of little canals. These canals are sometimes filled with poisons and the skin scales and blisters, gets red and raw and becomes like so much tissue fire.

Salves do not reach the source of the trouble. To make the blood pure is the only scientific method of relief. S. S. S. is the greatest blood purifier because it is a natural one. There is no mineral of any sort in it. It is purely vegetable.

So great is the fame of S. S. S. that many substitutes trail along in various sections of the country. They all, sooner or later, die a natural death. S. S. S. builds up weak and acid blood, gives prompt relief to almost every case of eczema, winter tetter and other skin maladies. You owe yourself the duty of trying a bottle of S. S. S. Take no substitute. Write for our free book on skin diseases. Confidential letters replied to by our Medical Expert. Write Swift Specific Co., Department 33, Atlanta, Ga.

W. B. MISER IS HONOR GUEST AT ELKS' ANNUAL PICNIC

Excellent Time Enjoyed at Cleary's Grove—Traction Employees Present Mr. Miser With Handsome Gift

Walter B. Miser was a busy man in Jacksonville yesterday. The employees of the local Traction system felt that they should show their appreciation of his services not only as superintendent of the local utilities but also a friend. This resulted in the presentation Friday morning by the employees of a beautiful engraved Hamilton watch to Mr. Miser.

Friday afternoon Jacksonville Lodge No. 682 B. P. O. E. gave a picnic and fish fry in the grove of William Cleary east of the city. Mr. Cleary is a member of the local order and was a most attentive host. The committee from the lodge in charge of the entertainment consisted of Ben Owens, Charles Ator and H. E. Wheeler. Plenty of fish and weiners was supplied and all those present had a delightful time.

After all had partaken of lunch F. L. Sharpe acted as toastmaster. Mr. Sharpe read a poem to Brother Miser written by Brother Charles S. Sanders. He then called upon Mr. Miser to make a few remarks. Mr. Miser expressed his appreciation of the friendship of the members of the local lodge of Elks and said he would carry away with him many pleasant memories of his association with the members of the order.

Mr. Sharpe then called upon H. P. Samuell to respond in behalf of the order. Remarks also were made by J. H. Hackett, Dr. A. M. King, Dr. W. H. Weirich, J. Carl Neat and G. W. Davis.

STRIBLING WILL PROBATED

The will of the late W. B. Stribling who died at his home in Virginia, probated during the week, shows the estate to be valued at $27,000. Two thousand dollars of this is in personal property, and $25,000 North Dakota farm land. By the terms of the will the property is to be divided equally, between the widow, Mrs. Roberta Stribling, a daughter, Mrs. D. A. Yowell, and a son, Robert Stribling. G. Meade and L. D. Springer.

TONS OF TOBACCO FOR THE SOLDIERS

New York, June 30—Within a few days there will be sent from this city the first shipment of the largest tobacco order ever placed in this country. The order totals 23,500,000 pounds. The tobacco will come from Louisville and will be shipped in hogheads, of which there will be 15,000, the total shipment weighing 11,700 tons.

The French government is the purchaser of the tobacco, all of which is in leaf form and will be manufactured in France. The purchase is the result of the decision of the French War Department to see that the men in the trenches shall receive all the tobacco they desire without being forced to depend on shipments from their friends and relatives and from the various societies formed to supply them.

The first shipment of 3,000 tons will be sent on the steamship Lady Nicotine. This vessel is now known as the Kirsten, and will be renamed in honor of the cargo she will carry. There will be five sailings a month during July and August.

SPANISH WAR VETS AT RACINE

Racine, Wis., June 30—With fluttering flags and martial music, the gates of Racine were thrown open today to greet the delegates and visitors to the annual State convention and reunion of the United Spanish War Veterans of Wisconsin. Each arriving train brought its quota of visitors, and it was early seen that the number in attendance would greatly exceed all expectations.

The reunion this year will continue over a period of five days and will be combined with a mammoth Fourth of July celebration. Among the many features of the program will be a water carnival on the lake, a street carnival, band concerts, fireworks displays and a big military, civic and industrial parade.

COMPENSATION FOR RUM SELLERS
Menomonee, Wis., June 30—Menomonee claims the distinction of being the first city in the country to adopt a method of compensation for liquor sellers who are obliged to discontinue business on account of prohibition. The thirteen local saloonkeepers who will be forced to close their establishments at midnight tonight, when the city goes dry as a result of the April election, will go into other lines of retail business, and thru a community arrangement they will be given the use of their buildings rent free for a year to give them a chance to get started.

Fred Spiehl is suffering from burns received while filling his motor cycle at The Modern Garage Thursday evening. The flame caught his clothing as Mr. Spiehl struck a light and had it not been for the fact that he had presence of mind enough to get down in the dust of the street he might have burned very seriously. As it was his hands received the worst injuries. He is getting along nicely and no serious consequences will result.

TRADE AND INDUSTRY KEEP ON MOVING AT ACTIVE PACE

Such Seasonal Slack as Generally Intervenes At This Time of Year Is Less Conspicuous Than Usual.

New York, June 30—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"While finishing the most active six months ever experienced trade as well as industry keeps on moving at an active pace, such seasonal slack as generally intervenes at this time of year, being less conspicuous than usual, and in effect quite fully, if not wholly offset by rush orders placed by the United States government for army supplies."

"Heavy expenditures by the government for numerous articles required to provision troops that may be needed in Mexico or along the border are reported by a number of cities and in consequence the market for foodstuffs has stiffened while at the same time foreign inquiries for steel predicted upon fears that America may commandeer supplies of munitions have come out with a rush, tho it cannot be denied that purely domestic business of a staple character is rather light. However, the preeminent fact is that ordinary interior trade in articles of every day common use is above normal for this time of the year, allowances being made for whatever relaxation has recently occurred. Weekly bank clearings $4,315,516,000."

DENY ALLEGATIONS OF AMERICAN NOTE

In reply to Secretary Lansing's recent note in which the correctness of assertions in the communication from Washington were repeatedly denied. The memorandum declares that the United States had no right to maintain its armed forces on Mexican soil.

The memorandum contains 25 counts. Altho not in the form of a direct reply to the Washington note, it is considered equivalent to an answer to that document.

It expresses surprise that the Washington government should have been pained at the tone and the contents of the Carranza document, since it maintains that the United States has sent to the constitutional government not only one, but many discourteous and even overbearing notes.

Emphatically reiterating the Mexican government's position denying the right of the United States to keep armed bodies in Mexico the memorandum denies energetically that the Mexican government has protected bandits who had committed depredations in the United States and defies Washington to produce proof of the assertion.

Blame Watson for Massacre

Blame for the Santa Ysabel massacre is placed on the so-called impulsive and irascible disposition of Charles Watson, general manager of Cuzititlan company; and General Scott and General Funston are accused of bad faith and lack of honor in misleading General Obregon in an alleged evasive reply regarding the crossing of American troops into Mexico after the Glenn Springs raid.

The memorandum asserts that while it is true that the United States arrested General Huerta, the motive which prompted this act was not a purpose of aiding the constitutional government but because the United States feared that General Huerta was plotted with Germany.

The note concludes by declaring that the presence of American troops in Mexico invites rather than prevents bandit raids along the border.

The memorandum was issued at the same time that the foreign office authorized publication of Secretary Lansing's recent note.

Sent Many Threatening Notes.

In part the note says:

"It appears strange that the department of state of the United States should be displeased with the tone of the note of this government of May 27th, which it terms discourteous, when the same department addressed to the constitutional government not only but many notes in tones not only discourteous but threatening.

"During the period alluded to in this note 148 Mexican citizens have been murdered in American territory by American citizens and even by the authorities of the United States in spite of the fact that both nations were in a state of profound peace and in none of these cases, despite repeated remonstrances by the Mexican ambassador at Washington have any of the guilty been exemplary punished.

"It is untrue that the Mexican government has protected in any instance criminals attacking American territory. The Mexican government has done all in its power to protect foreign subjects. The fault lies with foreigners, especially Americans, who insisted on remaining in disturbed districts despite the repeated warnings of the Mexican government. As our own citizens have suffered severely on account of the conditions of affairs, it is hardly just that foreigners should expect to be immune."

Cites Case of Charles Watson.

The note cites the case of Charles Watson, one of the victims of the Santa Ysabel massacre, who, it states insisted on making the fatal journey despite a warning from General Trevino, the military governor of Chihuahua.

It is an act the notes states, which the American military authorities cannot deny, that on March 16th, General Gavira advised the latter that he had trustworthy intelligence that Villa and his bandits were on the way to the frontier. He also warned them that Villa was going by way of Las Palomas, thus giving the American authorities ample time in which to prepare to meet the danger. The constitutionalist government also on receipt of the news of the movements of Villa and right after the attack on Columbus sent 1,500 men under General Gutierrez as rapidly as possible to the northern part of the state of Chihuahua with orders to pursue the bandits relentlessly. It is well known that the pursuit began immediately and that the bandits were dispersed.

"The imputation of the American government that the constitutionalist government had not desire to put an end to these attacks is untrue. It is well known that the affair at Parral resulted from the imprudence of the commander of the American troops who entered the town well knowing that the Mexican commander had not given his consent.

Deny Charge of Disloyalty.

"It is absolutely untrue that Mexican troops have been guilty of disloyalty as imputed in the note of the department of state. The Mexican government could do no less than consider improper the presence of American troops on Mexican soil since the original orders given to them were, according to the American press, to undertake immediate pursuit of the Villa bandits and return to their encampments.

"It is also true that the constitutionalist government protected American troops against the just indignation of the populace of Parral, who were aroused by their presence.

"The note of the secretary of state described as a convention what was simply a proposition which the Mexican government made conditionally to the government of the United States in the note of March 10th, to establish reciprocity in the passage of troops in the pursuit of bandits, if on any part of the frontier there should occur acts such as these at Columbus. This provisional proposition cannot be called a convention, and consequently it is untrue that the constitutionalist government has repudiated any convention. What the constitutionalist government desired was to define the terms of the agreement and the conditions so as to obviate any misunderstandings which might arise between the two countries, and also, in any event, to satisfy the Mexican people in regard to the cause of the presence of American troops in Mexican territory.

"The United States has undertaken to abuse the terms of agreement as all its acts show evidently that it did not wish to confine itself to a pursuit of the bandits."

"The constitutionalist government does not wish bandits to go unpunished nor does it refuse to destroy and disperse them. But the government can tolerate in no manner the continued presence on Mexican territory of American troops who have no excuse for being there.

"The recent attack of bandits on Glenn Springs can in no way be charged to the constitutionalist government but to the carelessness of the United States which did not effectively protect the frontier despite warning of danger. It is also very doubtful whether the band was organized in Mexico as there is good reason for belief that it was assembled in American territory. It is proven that General Obregon, during his interview with Generals Scott and Funston at Juarez, notified them that the Mexican government would not permit the passage of American troops in the Mexican territory and that orders had been given to the commanders of all frontier posts to refuse consent to the passage of American troops.

"When General Obregon showed General Funston and Scott a copy of a paper published in El Paso stating that American troops had entered Mexican territory as the result of affairs at Glenn Springs and Boquillas, General Funston replied: 'I have given no such order nor have I any information of any such movement.'

Between men of honor General Funston's reply can only be considered as a positive denial that American troops had passed the border. The department of state alleges that the declaration of Funston was made before the order was issued, and not after it had gone into effect. Nevertheless, it appears the truth that General Funston attempted to hide some movement of troops which he had already considered ordering when he said that he had not given the order.

"It is not true that Generals Scott and Funston, during their conference with General Obregon mentioned the possibility of a new punitive expedition across the border into the state of Tamaulipas on account of the activities imputed to De La Rosa."

COUNCIL MAKES PROVISION FOR ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL FUND

Trustees Named at Special Meeting Friday—Judge Layman Appointed Library Board Member.

A brief meeting of the city council was held Friday afternoon when Mayor Rodgers appointed the board to have charge of the anti-tuberculosis hospital fund. The trustees named are J. Edgar Martin, Dr. H. C. Woltman and Miss Louise Capps. They are to draw for their terms of service as one is to serve for one year, one for two years and one for in the manner which seems best made in accordance with the law under which the anti-tuberculosis sanatorium tax was authorized by a vote of the people and extended. The fund from the tax will be about $4,200 a year, and the board under the Glacklin act have a great deal of latitude as to the exact manner of expending the funds. It is not necessary to build a sanatorium but a building can be leased and conducted in the manner in which seems best to the board. Under the law one of the trustees must be a member of the local board of health or a health officer and Mr. Martin is filling that appointment.

Mayor Rodgers appointed Judge M. T. Layman member of the library board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles Sanders, and the appointment was confirmed.

PRAIRIE STREET PROPERTY OWNERS CONSIDER PAVING MATERIALS

Objections to Tarvia Voiced at Meeting of Board of Local Improvement Friday Forenoon.

At a meeting of the board of local improvement Friday morning a hearing was had on the proposed paving of Prairie street and a large number of property owners attended. The ordinance for the paving of this street from Lafayette avenue to Edgmon street calls for tarvia and quite a number of the property owners present objected to this material. Some of those present were inclined to favor asphalt paving and pointed to West College street as an example of what a good asphalt pavement means. On the street the pavement is still unbroken and is in the best condition of any pavement in Jacksonville today. There were several property owners present who preferred brick. The principal objection to tarvia was made on the ground that this material has not been tried out a sufficiently long time to prove its durability. Altho there were vigorous objections made to tarvia, the opinions registered from property owners on the street show that owners of 3,611 feet favor tarvia and this is more than half the frontage. The total frontage on the street is 6,290 feet. Owners of 1,874 feet favor asphalt, 347 favor brick and 465 object to any kind of pavement.

Mr. S. Cafky was one of the first to speak and said that he had for years been in favor of paving Prairie street but that he was now opposed to tarvia as an untried material. H. L. Caldwell maintained that the South Main street pavement is proof that tarvia is not satisfactory for heavy traffic and said that it was not intended for a paving material out designed for roadway surfacing.

E. L. Kinney was enthusiastic in his support of the tarvia plan basing his opinion on tarvia pavements he had seen in North Carolina. There the paving has been used for a long period of years with satisfactory results. C. L. French is also in favor of tarvia because of his observations in the south. Mayor Rodgers explained that he had examined tarvia pavements at Springfield, Mo., where several stretches have been laid and more paving is in course of construction. He said that the only purpose the board of local improvement had in suggesting tarvia was because of the belief that this material would furnish a satisfactory pavement at a moderate price. He said the board wished to follow the wishes of the majority and this same opinion was voiced by Mr. Cox and others members of the commission. After all property owners had spoken the hearing was adjourned to Friday, July 7, at 3:30 p. m.

Among property owners present were S. Cafky, Miss Lydia Hamilton, Mrs. Mary Frankenburg, Miss Fairbank, Miss Betty Moseley, Mrs. W. S. Badger, Mrs. Haltham, Frank Williams, Mrs. George Hollinger, J. P. Correa, Miss Stella Cole, Mrs. M. E. Gilbert, Joseph DeSilva, L. F. Hitt, J. H. Jewsbury, Miss Deaton, H. W. Struck, George Bussey, Mrs. Burke, J. I. Graham, H. H. Bancroft, H. L. Caldwell, Herman Strandberg, Richard Hopper, John Kenedy, Mrs. K. S. Fanning, Edward Keating, Deem Rapp, M. H. Havenhill, F. D. Martin, Miss Blunt and C. L. French. Action was also taken with reference to the West State street proceedings and the resolution already passed was abandoned. This action simply means that with slight changes new proceedings will soon be instituted.
